THE SETTING

Foreword

Our school years play an important part in the drama of our lives. Shakespeare once said, ". . . All the world is a stage, and all the men and women merely players . . ."

The past twelve years have formed a comparatively small scene in this great universal dramatization; but, through constant work with the members of the cast, lasting friendships have been made.

Many exciting, drab, happy, and sad moments have been remembered as hit songs in a popular musical. However, as tired and faded costumes are stored in a trunk following a hit production, many of these episodes will be tucked away in our minds and forgotten.

The finale need not come when the curtain falls, portraying the end of this scene, for our friendships and experiences will live on.

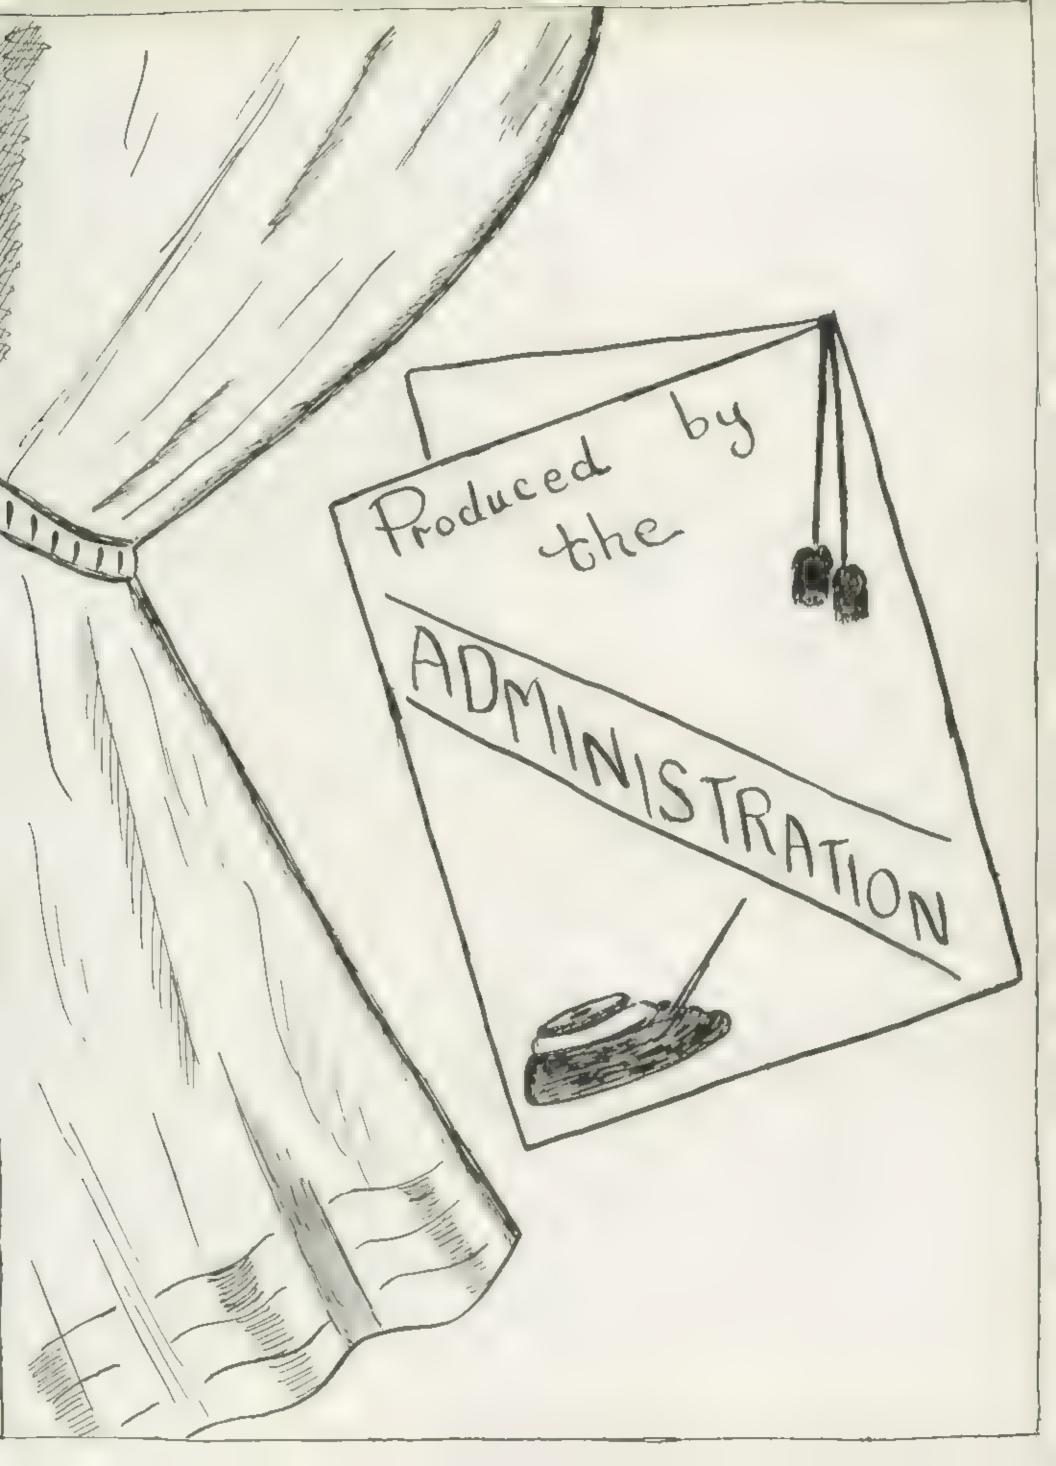

We hope many of these happenings may be recalled through this book in years to come.

To Mr. Gerald H. Kriebel, we of the senior class dedicate the 1953 Hatter. As social studies instructor and class advisor, he has shown continual patient understanding and sincere interest with each one of us.

Supervising Principal

MR. I. NEWTON COWAN

Carnegie Institute of Technology Franklin and Marshall College, B.S Columbia University Temple University, M.Ed.

TO THE CLASS OF 1953:

It is said that President Conant of Harvard University has behind his desk a picture of a turtle. Under the picture is the caption, "To get ahead, the turtle mist stick his neck out." There is a whole philosophy of life in this picture and its caption. The successful person is he who is willing to undertake new responsibilities, who is willing to champion causes, and, in order to go forward, will risk his security for are ideal. The entire history of human progress is made up of people who believed in something and were willing to strive forward toward their goal.

As you leave Hatfield High School my best advice to you is to be like the tritle who wants to get ahead—stick your necks out! Be "ter" something and work mightily for it. Accept a challenge of some kind and give it everything you have. Progress, your own and the world's, depends upon your willingness to do this. In the words of Plato, "Let each of us seek to learn and discern between good and exil, so as to choose everywhere the better life—follow after justice and virtue always—thus shall we live dear to one another and to the gods, both here and when we receive our reward."

My very best wishes to you.

I. NEWTON COWAN

Principal

West Chester State Teachers' College Temple University, B.S.

Temple University, M.Ed.

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1953:

You have my sincere good wishes and I am sum, those of the facility as your career in the Hattield High School costs and you go out to find your place in the world of adults.

The things you have accomplished at Hatfield High School will temind others that a new cohere, this vearbook should serve to optomize these accomplishments and recell memories of vear association with those who helped you attain voor goods. May veit attain seccess in each worthy endeavor and when the road is weary and rough neav these few words give you the courage and strength to persevere.

If you think you are beaten, you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't,
If you'd like to win, but you think you can't,
It is almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost For out of the world we find, Success begins with a fellow's will It's all in the state of the mind. If you think you're outclassed, you are, You've got to think high to rise. You've got to be sure of yourself before You can ever win a prize.

"Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the man Who Thinks He Can!"

Laura M. Trexler

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1953:

It has been written that there are ten marks of an educated man

- (1) He keeps his mind open on every question until all the evidence is in.
- 2) He always listens to the man who knows.
- (3) He never laughs at new ideas
- 4) He cross examines his day dreams.
- (5) He knows his strong point and plays it.
- (6) He knows the value of good habits and how to form them.
- (7) He knows when not to think and when to call in the expert to think for him.
- (8) You can't sell him magica
- (9) He lives the forward-looking, outward-looking life
- (10) He cultivates a love for the beautiful

Keeping the above in mind, regardless of whether you as individuals plunge into the business of making your "mene" in the world or continuing in the field of higher education, we on the board of education wish you God speed in the achievement of your aims and aspirations.

Secretaries

Miss Helen Glueck, a recent graduate of Hatfield High school, has assumed her duties as an efficient and cheerful scaretary. Her job covers the usual secretarial duties. She also types the copy for the Orange and Black and Hatter, and does other tasks for teachers and pupils.

Mrs. Aida Garrahan performs the duties of secretary to the joint school board. She takes care of the correspondence and makes out bills

Another new secretary this year is Mrs. Kathleen Toska, who undertakes the distribution of announcement sheets and collection of daily attendance forms, petihission and admission ships.

Under the new direction of Mr. David Lewis the Parentteacher Association has set another goal of bettering our school and helping the pupils. The major undertaking this year is buying new drapes for the school auditorium. To attain this goal they have staged card parties, sold Christmas candles, had cakes sales, and are planning a street fair, which is expected to help a great deal in the raising of the money. Buying glasses for children of families who cannot afford them was another project of the P.T.A.

The group's theme for the vear was "building firm foundations for our children."

The total membership was 406.

Bus Drivers

Every morning at seven thirty Mr. Claude Liek. Mr. Willis Mover, and Mr. Charlie Keeley leave Delp's bus station to pick up the pupils in Hatfield Township. These three buses make three trips daily besides the trips they make for the first and

This year we have also been fortunate in having a bus to transport those who participate in sports after school. Transportation to all away games has been supplied by our able bus drivers.

Many times we do not appreciate the wonderful job that our janitors, Mr. Pete Schraut and Mr. Elmer Ruppert, are doing. Pete is serving his thirtieth year here while Mr. Ruppert is serving his first full year.

Sweeping the floors, keeping school grounds clean, and taking care of the furnace are some of the many odd jobs these men do.

There has been an addition to the boiler room in the form of new oil burners. This has helped to lighten the burden for our willing workers.

Custodians

Serving her second year with us is Miss Margaret Shaw, our efficient nurse.

This year Miss Shaw aided Doctor Albert Schafenacker in giving physical examinations to grades one, three, five, seven, nine, and eleven. There were also dental examinations given by Doctor Edward Swartley. Hearing tests with the use of the audiometer were conducted; and 150 people were x-rayed for tuberculosis, including pupils, teachers, and parents. Home visits were taken to follow up the correction of defects. A record of height and weights were also kept.

With all her duties Miss Shaw found time to be Junior Red Cross Club advisor. Thanks a million, Miss Shaw, for a job well done.

PROLOGUE.

All the world's a stage.

And all the men and women merely players:
They have their exits and their entrances:
And one man in his time plays many parts . . .

William Shakespeare

Acr T

"Why have you been late again? Not so much crowding back there in that corner. How did you get that black eye, Fred?"

"I verybody quiet, please? Ciet your books. Now let's try this page once more." And so it went, day after day, in our mine we a rehearsal period for ble's school play. The examinity big day when our elementary directors informed the higher upsithat our class was ready for the fiext act called senior high.

ACT H. SCENE I.

The carried ascended in Rocin 13 with Mr. Thomas Children sitting at his desk. After everyone had taken his seat, class officers were elected.

Naturally the stage was in an up-roar when it was time to choose between the stip dated and more expensive anyx ring. I willy, exerviling was quiet once more only to be interested by a very wonderful hayride which everyone enjoyed.

"Don't torget the 'April Showers'". Yes, it was time for the Sophomore dance and what a successful way to end the first scene.

ACT II. SCENE II.

"Class dues everybed, bas to pay them?" That was the first line and a contine is one. Newspapers, Easter eggs, pies, and cakes were sold to boost the play's finances.

Al. Giralt Krichel was saids having truible, but a lot of fon, heing our head-directs. Class officers were elected and recours for "I title Wimen" were already passed. The scene was their perked up when Joan Landis and Fein Constanzer were selected for District Chorus. This scene ended excitingly with a marvelous May Dance.

ACT II, SCENE III.

The third scree opered again in the Gerald Knebel's joon. After all so others were elected, a magazine compagn was stiged, this terry boosted the treasing. Then everybedy was challed when several members of the class were chosen for District Chorus.

Im. It our dicame came time when we went to Washington. No one will ever farget those wonderful three days.

The scene nested its end with baccal arteate, class night, and last, but not least, commune ment. The total event of Ac. II was the very glamo trous Serior Prom. At the end every bits was saying "good-bye" to the most wonderful act-of his life.

The curtain now descends to rise ere long upon a larger scene.

The present is our own; but while we speak We cease from its possession, and resign The stage we tread on to another race.

As vain and gay and mortal as ourselves.

Thomas Love Peacock

Acr III.

Act III may be a tempest or an experence of happy accomplishment. One thing is certain. The theater is crewded, the actors wait to say their lines with lively expectation, the call boys are approaching and the play is on.

Journey to Washington

With strains of Goodbye, Seniors floating on the clear morning air, the Class of 53, starounded by patient parents, smiling sweethearts, and jesting jumors, boarded the train at Lansdale Reading Railroad Station, bound for Washington, D.C.

"Have fun, Goodhye Charlie, and say helfo to Ike" were some of the shouts heard as the train pulled out at 7.16 A.M. and the underclassmen left the depot to return home in their gaily decorated cars.

On the train the junior presents were opened, out came rattles, water pistols, toy horns, and many other amusing objects. At 7.45 the train got into Wayne June tion where the girls parted with their heels and the class plus the advisors ascended the special Baltimore and Ohio car. Breakfast was served here with everyone striving to accomplish the feat of making his mouth and coffee meet at just the right jerk of the train.

Arriving at the Mount Royal Station, Baltimore, the group detrained and mounted a chartered motor coach which stuck with us for the remainder of the Washington tour

First stop—the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis! What a sight to watch the cadets march carefully, Side by Side, from one class to another—It reminded us of our school back home!! Since it was High Voor when this first spot hid been foured, the class went to historic Carvel Hall Hotel for luncheon—With full stomachs, we proceeded to Mount Vernon and then on to the Plaza Hotel, our three day living quarters, where our supper was served. That evening seats were reserved at the Locks Capital Theatre to assure us of seeing the movie Son brow followed by a floor show.

There were stars in everyone's eves upon arriving back at the hotel, but Step did not come quickly. The house dick was kept busy by alarm clocks, gab tests, and water throwing, among other activities. There were no Deve Hearted tourists the next morning despite the lack of sleep, as the bus started on its journey to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing where tolks were seen making money, fast and furiously. The F.B.I. building proved to be interesting and exciting.

"Everyone always walks up to the top on the first visit," were Mr. Cowan's famous words uttered as we neared the towering Washington Monument. "Whew" is about all we had to say for that stop. At reaching the top our spirits were elevated when we felt as though we were. Sating on Top of the Bord. The Corcoran Art Gallery and the breath-taking White House were the next stops.

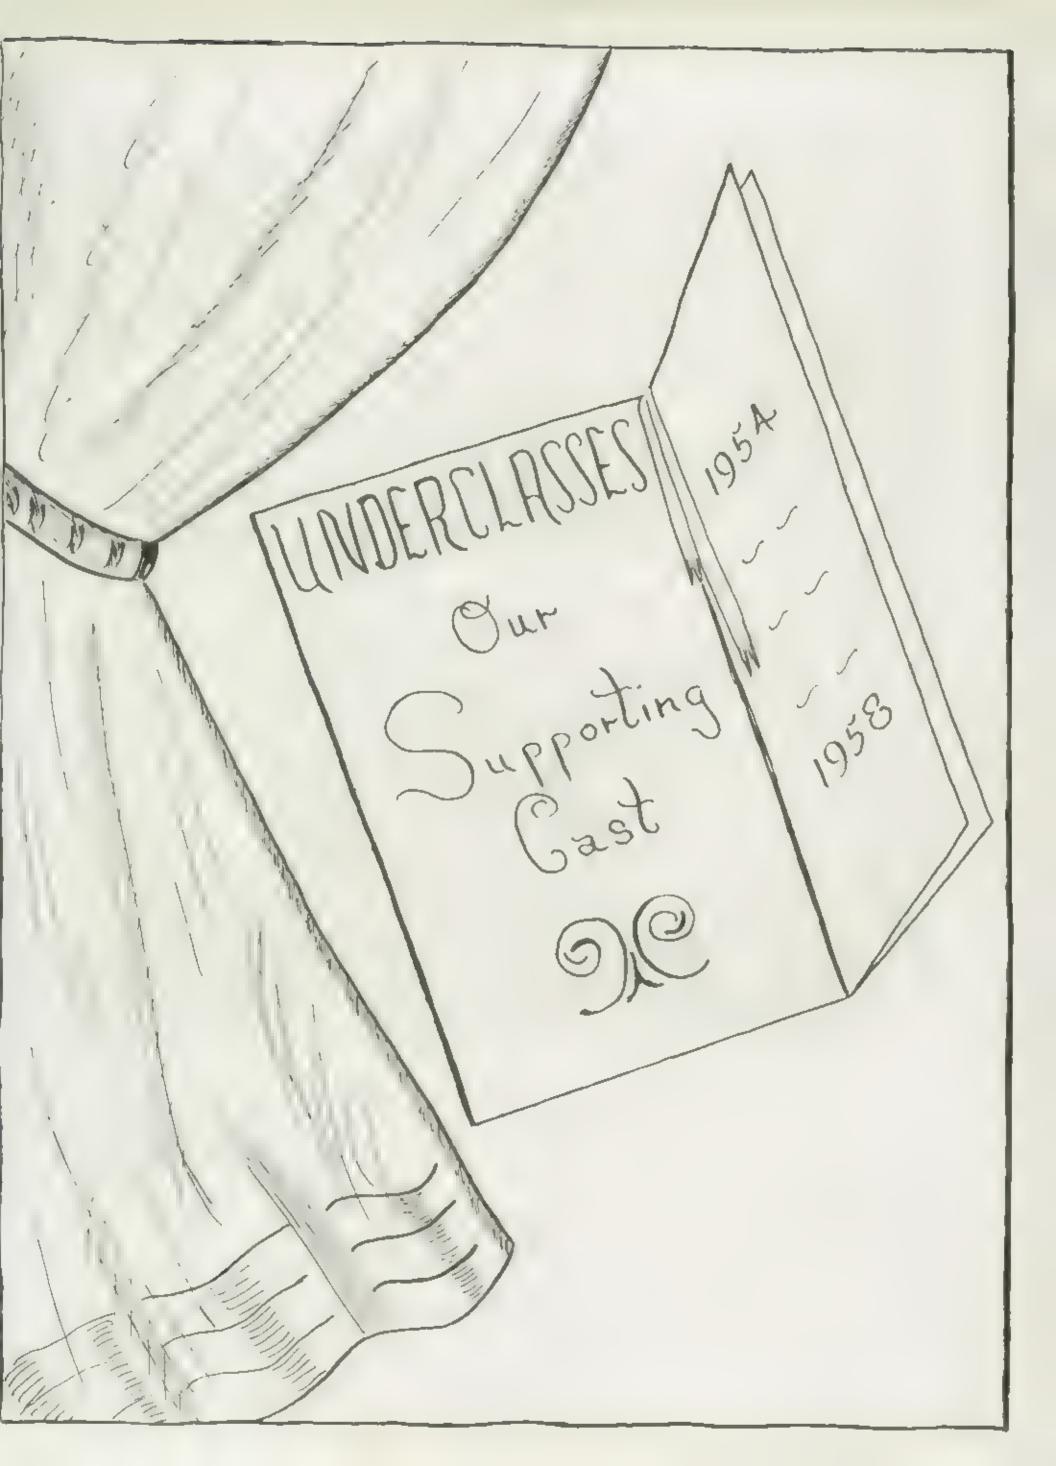

After lunch at the Plaza guided tours were made to Rock Creek Park and the zoo, Arlington Cemetery and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and the impress ve Lincoln Memorial. Dinner was served at six o'clock and the evening was filled by a visit to the Congressional Library and Glen Echo Amusement Park.

Saturday dawned clear and beautiful, and the final day was begon by breakfast Stops were then made at the National Gallery of Art, Freer Art Gallery, the Jefferson Memorial, Old National Museum, New National Museum, and the Smithsonian Institute.

Following hinch, the class toured the Capitol building, where the group picture was taken, and the Washington Cathedral. We then proceeded to the Union Station to start homeward, bidding goodbye to Ray the bus driver, and the fair Capital City. A debelous dinner was caten on the train by soaked seniors, who tushed to the dining car like a Pack of Wild Horses.

At Wayne Junction, the class once more boarded the Reading car and pulled into Lansdale at nine o'clock P.M. The bedraggled seniors happily descended the train steps confident that the junior class would feel, as they, that a trip such as This is Heaven.

Juniors

"Just think, one more year and we'll be seniors!"

"What a goal to work for in our Junior year!"

To get started, this hard working class began with selling emberns. Following this they acquired books to sell called School Days. Collecting papers was another item on the money making list.

To satisfy their class—mater and friend, sweet tooth, they took on the annual protect of selling Laster leggs. This provided mach needed money for their sensor activities and their long anticipated Washington Trip.

Miss Beatrice J. Heiges, their class advisor, sat in on each class meeting helping when help was needed.

Along in the sports field, the Jumors participated in such activities as hockey, soccer, basketball, and baseball.

Another phase of their 11th year was entertainment. Many Juniors participated in the Junior-Semor play, "Cheaper By The Dozen."

A well-carried trip to New York on Durrel Delp's bus was planned for April 18 Lorraine Kriebel was the new addition to the Junior Class this year.

Finally the great thrill of being in senior high school came to this lively great is proceedings as they went to room C.3 ander Mr. Chilcore's guidance and to the shop with Mr. Potts in charge.

After quieting down, the group elected the class officers.

The first line of business was the ordering of the class rings. With a lot of backeting over which was the better, the gold or the onyx, decisions were made and orders placed.

After receiving them at Christmas, they felt more secure and walked around with hands outstreehed, displaying the rings.

Sports and Harmonaires seemed to occupy must of the time of these hustling youngsters.

The group sold every day cards in order to start building the treasury for the Washington trip in two years.

Selling candy at the athletic contest was another financial venture.

With their annual Sophomore spring dance on April 10, this group appeared to be on their way to bigger heights in the years to come.

The junior high soccer team, which won the championship, was supported by many of the boys. They also participated in unior high baskerball and base ball. Many of the gas played on the junior high hockey and baskerball teams.

This is the second year for these students in junior high school; one year remains before they enter senior high school.

As the end of the school term rolled around one heard questions such as these:

"Do you think the academic course will be hard?"

"What course are you taking next year?"

"I wonder whether Latin is hard!"

STUDENT COUNCIL

The first meeting of the Student Council was called to order by the President, Bill Rheiner, on September 15, 1953. After that, meetings were held every. Thursday at 8.15.3 M.

The first venture was a tri-council dance. The net gross on this dance was $50. The next event in which they participated was the model presidential election in which they furnished the judges.

The Student Courcil provided is with a juke box and a pench machine which were placed in the cafeteria. They made money by checking coats at various evening activities. They gave the atticks in the lest and total department to the teller. They also sold plastic tablecloths

Among the duties of the Student Council was the selection of the films which we enjoyed duting the year.

The group held a tri-council dance at our school on March 28. Dances after basketball games were sponsored by Student Council. Money was contributed to a baby sponsorship to cloth children.

Vandal sm was one of the various evils that the Conneil tried to overcome. Their attempts to raise money were a soccess and their piggy banks were fattened. Censidering the many obstacles which they encountered during the year the Student Council was successful.

SENIOR ART CLUB

Exchanging ideas and discussing different art work occupied the time of these print and color minded biss. With Mr. Calvin Ruth as faculty advisor, they worked in pastels, oil and finger painting, and portrait sketching.

Since doing this sort of work, the boys have a wider knowledge of color and culture.

In the beginning of the school term the boys devoted their time to sketching scenes which were visible from the school grounds. The cold weather forced them to return to the classroom where they became familiar with the use of charcoal, temperat paints, crayons, and watercolors. Many of the preducts of the sessions were admired by the students who visited room 5.

JUNIOR ART CLUB

"Don't use too much paint?" "May I borrow some crayons?" With these and many other remarks, the major high boys' and gitls' art clib, under the direction of Mr. Calvin Ruth, got under way.

I have young arrists were permitted to do as they wished. Some of the work done was finger painting, seeres in pastels, compositions of birds and animals, and costume designing.

The boys and girls were also very creative in their pieces of art. Life on Mars became a very interesting subject on which to let one's imagination run wild.

Valentines were made during the month of February and displayed on the classroom wall.

The last project of the group was weaving. It was desired that more work or the field of handeraft be done, however, the facilities did not permit this to be done.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Business meeting, entertainment, then refreshments composed the monthly meeting of the Future Homemakers of America organization.

The seventy members met for regular business sessions every other. Thursday afternoon and the second Monday evening of each month, at this meeting the group also had a social time

A bus, chartered from Mr Durrel Delp, was filled by the club for the annual Farm Show at Harrisburg, January 15.

One of the year's highlights was the formal dance, "Christmas Rhythm," sponsored by both the Future Homemakers and the Fiture Faimers. This took place in the gymnasium, December 13.

An Easter package was made up and sent to a needy family.

Another service performed by the club was the preparing and serving of a dinner to the Bux-Mont Forum Clab, in the school cafeter a. The girls were also waitresses at the Chamber of Commerce turkey dinner in October at the Hatfield firehouse.

Gail Keck, State President, and several other delegates represented the Harfield Chapter at the State Convention of the Future Homemakers in Harrisburg on April 10 and 11,

As president of the state organization, Gail assumed many responsibilities, including her speaking at the Drexel Institute of Technology, the Pennsylvania State College, and the incetings of the four regional groups, she also presided at the state session held at the Faim Show.

This hilarious comedy had father, who was trying to save time and waste motion, get in the most unusual circumstances. When Anne came home with short underthings and sike stockings, the whole family was herrified and father refused to let her go out. Only Ernestine, Martha and Mother seemed to understand her trouble.

Then when Joe Scales came to take Anne out and acted so rude, all talk of dates was ended.

Father also thought his children should have an education. When Miss Bill gave Anne the co-lege examinion which chesting took place, father again was angry.

Larry seemed to change the whole family, even though the girls gave him a little trouble with his motorcycle.

After a retest was given to Anne, who had a date for the Junior Prom with Larry, Dad left for Europe to speak at a conference

DRIVER TRAINING

"Let's go kids!" An excited high school student slid under the wheel of the training car and a new adventure began!

This year thirty six draver training students completed the full course of learning to drave. However, sixty-two students had signed up for the course

A pretty blue, 1752 dual-controlled Chevrolet was supplied to the class by Hedrick Brothers in Telford.

As part of the driver training course, a class session was held for the eleventh grade, in this class they learned driving rales and information from a book called $Sp_{\sigma t \circ \theta}(m - L/k) Dr_{\sigma t \circ \tau}$.

After eight hours of required driving, Mr. Chilcote, the advisor, took each student to Norris town, where he took his state driver's test and became a fall fledged, beensed driver

Mr. Chilcone also sponsored some assemblies for instructions on sate driving through safety films and short talks from Marty Keegan, a state policeman

Through Mr. Chilcote and his training car, an important goal was set and attained this year safe driving.

The Model Airplane club consisted of twenty-eight high minded boys from the seventh and eighth grades.

Each student was permitted to make any model airplane or ship in which he was interested; old models were also repaired during this time. On several occasions movies concerning model airplanes were shown

Later in the spring the students flew their models on the school grounds. There was a great spirit of competition as each boy was convinced that his plant must fly better than the others.

Several plans and ships were on display in Mr. Golazeski's homeroom. Some models of the late jet type aircraft were included in this group

SENIOR GIRLS' SHOP CLUB

Sinc of the senier high girls were helped greatly by the Shop Club this year. Mr. Ronald Richards, the advisor, explained and demonstrated many ways of decorating a home with different kinds of waffle rugs, knick-knack shelves, and many pretty lamps.

The pupils went to the shop every Tuesday to work on their projects. All of the garls have learned ways of judging quality and craftsmanship by making small things for their homes.

JUNIOR GIRLS' SHOP CLUB

Shop Club was to familiarize the pupils with the different tools and machinery of the ship. All of the students made very beautiful knick-knack shelves as their projects. This clicb ranght the girls how to be helpers around the house.

SENIOR SPORTS CLUB

Twenty-five boys from grades ten through twelve participated in Mr. Bower's Senior Sports Club.

During bad weather the boys met every two weeks due to the lack of indoor facilities. Meeting in the gym, the boys enjoyed such sports as basketball, badminton, wrestling, volleyball, and tumbling.

Under favorable conditions the club met every week and played baseball, soccer, softball, and football.

This period was for relaxation and for developing those who did not purite patient competitive sports.

Sportsmanship and good character were the goals of this club.

JUNIOR SPORTS CLUB

Thirty boys from grades seven to nine were enrolled in Mr. Golazeski's Junior Sports Club.

The group met alternate Thursdays with the senior high club.

During bad weather the boys enjoyed baskethall, tumbling, wrestling, and volleyball in the gymnasium.

Soccer, football, and softball comprised the outdoor sports.

The club was divided into teams, according to ability for the various games.

No junior high school team member could join the organization, as it was a popular club, themed mainly for recreation, it also served as a training ground for those interested in junior high sports.

Wrestling and softhall proved to be the favorite sports of the group.

Under the enthusiastic direction of Miss Elma Stine, the recently organized band started its second year.

A committee of the band officers with Mr. Cowan and Miss Stine started the year off right with the selection of black slacks, white sweaters with orange H's, and pert black hats for the bands complete uniform. With the help of the head majorette. Annette Rover, they also selected white boots, short white skirts, black turtleneck sweaters with the orange H, and white overseas caps for the majorettes.

To rev their skill at winning prizes, the first opportunity was the Pennsburg Halloween Parade. It was a great thrill to Miss Stine and the band members when an at notancement was made to the band that they had placed third in their first try at marching.

Leading the Hatfield Halloween Parade, our band came through with flying colors, bagging the first prize. A routine was worked out for the majorettes by Miss Stine, and this was executed in front of the judges stand.

Next, teeling quite confident, the Hatfield Band marched through Quakertown, again taking first prize in the category of high school bands.

The Mardi Gras gave much stiff competition to the band and although they gave their best, only a small sum of consolation money was received.

Coming back to the band's own school activities, they played on the beginning and closing of a number of assemblies. A program was given to the Band Boosters Association, they also rendered a few numbers at two Parent-Teachers Association meetings.

To wind up their activities they took part in the annual Spring Concert given in April and May

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

The complete Christmas program was again sacred this year.

Grades one through six opened the performance with the annual Christmas pageant in charge of Mrs. Kathryn Wagner, the elementary school music advisor

Directing the second half of the program was the high school music advisor, Miss Flma Stine. The music was furnished by the ninth and tenth grade Girls' Chorus, the junior high school Boys' Chorus, and the Harmonaires.

To begin this part, following the processional, the three groups combined to sing, "Come Rise Lp Latly in the Morning" by Kountz. Then each chorus rendered several selections.

As in the preceding year, the Harmonaires stood—wearing white, silver-trimined bertha collars, and carrying white boughs with blue lights—in the form of a Christmas tree in the center front of the auditorium, with the other two choruses on either side

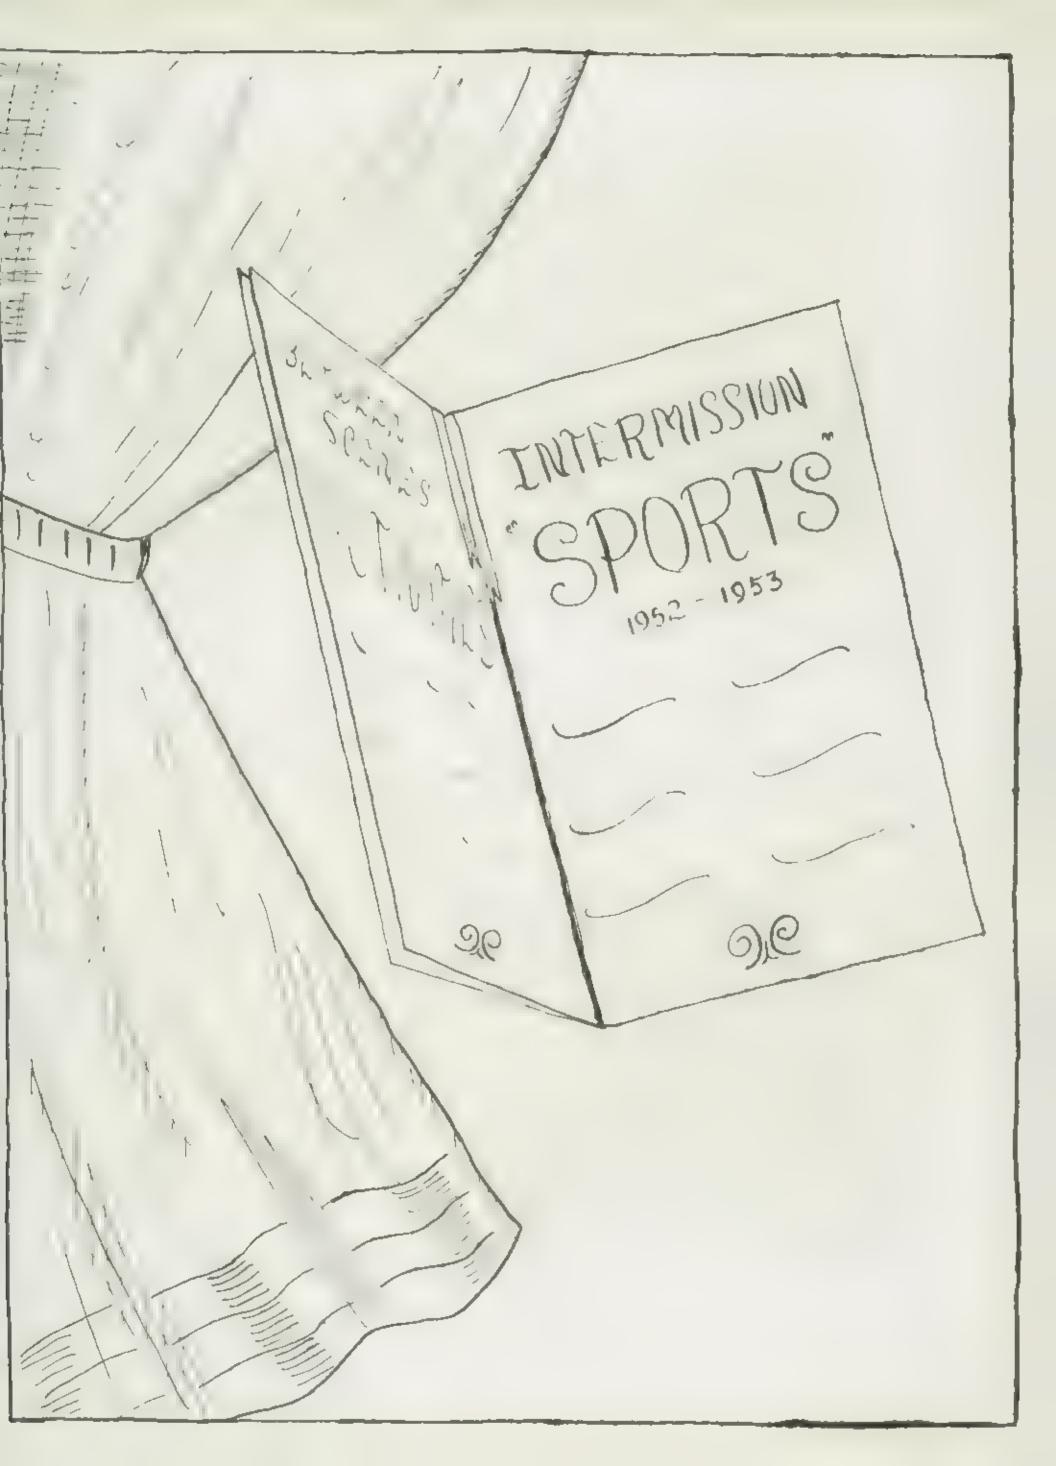

Concluding the program, the entire ensemble blended their voices in the grand "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handels' "Messiah". This performance was given to the elementary school, the high school, and the Parent-Teacher's Association.

The Hatfield boys' varsity basketball team has completed what was the most successful basket ball campaign in the past three seasons.

Although they finished league competition with a record of xx victories and eight defeats, the Falcons showed great improvement, for in the previous two seasons the Hatters faded to win a league contest.

Scoring honors went to two seniors, Connic Mack and Fred Laws, who tallied 139 and 136 points, respectively. Both hows averaged double figures throughout the season. The remainder of the points want to Bill Rheiner with 78, Roland Mover with 68, Harry Wurster with 58, and Mcl Saylor with 49 counters.

The Hatters provided many thrills for the home town fans by deteating the traditional rival North Wales in their both encounters. The first, and easy 68 to 37 victory, was perhaps the Falcon's best oftensive thrust of the season. The second game was a different story. The Hatters, behind at one time by 17 points, pulsed the game out of the bag in the final minute with a free throw by Harry Wurster, a sophomore center.

With all due consideration, the ream played good basketball, they never gave up and always managed to hustle-even in a losing cause
